The increasing number of subscriptions in amounts ranging from $10,000 up to $500,000 was the cause of much satisfaction among members of the committee, as they are now relying to a large extent on the purchase of bonds by that class of buyers to carry the present Liberty Loan offering to a successful conclusion.

The demand for bonds in denomina-tions of $50 up to $1,000 gained momentum, with sales for each by the banks and department stores, which have been provided with newly en-

Plot to Defeat Loan

Exposed in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 18.— Evidence of a pro-German plot against the second Liberty Loan has turned up in reports from German districts in Minneapolis, according to the Minneapolis Executive Committee.

A story has been circulated that the government intends to confiscate bank deposits. This tends to frighten depositors and cause them to draw out their money and hide it away. This story, members of the committee say, has been circulated only in German sections of the city.

Chauncey M. Depew. former United States Senator, predicted an advance in the price of Liberty bonds as soo as the war ends.

"I want to impress one point on the millions of New Yorkers and other Americans who should buy bonds and who have not yet done so," said Mr. Depew. "If this war so," said Mr. Depew. "If this war should end to-morrow every outstanding Liberty Loan bond would be worth 15 per cent more than its face value. In other words, each $1,000 bond would be worth $11,500 in the open market.

"All the property of all the people of the United States stands behind the bonds as collateral. In non-war times the bonds of the United States are a capital investment at 3 per cent. Therefore, when a successful peace comes the 4 per cent bonds will return to a
